Brainiac IP Solutions: A Pioneer in Intellectual Property Rights Services in India

Intellectual property rights means much more than just inventions and patents. To realize and enable different income streams, IP portfolio of the company must be properly managed to safeguard proprietary technologies and help maintain a competitive advantage in the marketplace.

An IP consulting company is an important ally when developing or strengthening patent monetization efforts. Collaborating with an IP consulting firm go hand-in-hand with a robust IP strategy that aims to recognize, evaluate, protect and attain valuable IP assets.

However, intellectual property law and its protection has never been India's forte, and this has often come back to haunt its work around innovation. The nation only has handful of expert patent consulting companies that
